In Florida, Could Rising Clinton Tide Sink Rubio? Marco Maintains Slight Edge At The Moment, 2 Weeks Until Votes Are Counted;
Solar Amendment #1 Unlikely to Pass; Medical Marijuana Amendment #2 Broadly Backed, Should Hit 60% Needed to Become Law:

The hold-your-breath state of Florida has high-profile contests for President and U.S. Senate that could go either way when votes are counted in 14 days, according to SurveyUSA research conducted for Bay News 9 in Tampa and News 13 in Orlando.

Democrat Hillary Clinton has a narrow, 48% to 45% advantage over Republican Donald Trump, with 6% of voters saying they will vote for minor-party candidates.

Clinton leads 2:1 among the youngest voters. If the youngest voters show up --- and that is a significant "if" --- Clinton carries the state's critical 29 electoral votes. Trump leads by 11 points among the state's seniors, and they will show up. The older the electorate, the better Trump will perform. Clinton leads among women, but not by much: 6 points. Much more worrisome for Trump is that he does not lead among men; Clinton edges him by a nominal 1 point, 47% to 46%. And, putting a finer point on it, Trump does not lead among high-school educated men, a group he must carry; Clinton edges him there by 4 points, 49% to 45%. Among "very conservative" men, Clinton siphons 1 out of 6 voters, from a group where Trump cannot afford to lose a single vote.

Trump leads among the state's white voters, 50% to 42%. Clinton leads overwhelmingly, as expected, among the state's African American voters. Cubans break for Trump, 49% to 44%. Non-Cuban Hispanics back Clinton, 56% to 37%. Asians prefer Clinton by 14 points.

4 in 10 voters say the economy is the most important issue in 2016, and among those voters, Clinton leads 5:4. Trump leads by 49 points among voters focused on immigration, but only 1 in 8 voters say immigration is the most important issue. Trump leads by 47 points among Evangelicals, by 24 points among gun owners, by 7 points in military households. Clinton leads by 26 points in Southeast Florida, which is enough to offset Trump's advantage in Northwest FL (Trump up 20), Central FL (Trump up 7), and Southwest FL (Trump up 4). The candidates are tied in Northeast FL.

Whatever stink there is on either candidate offsets: Among Trump supporters, two-thirds are voting "for Trump," one-third are voting "against Clinton." Among Clinton supporters, two-thirds are voting "for Clinton," one-third are voting "against Trump." 24% of Trump voters have reservations about Trump. 29% of Clinton supporters have reservations about Clinton.

Incumbent Republican Marco Rubio is running 4 point ahead of Democratic challenger Patrick Murphy in the high-profile contest for U.S. Senator, 45% to 41%. Rubio leads 2:1 among Cubans, but by 5 points among non-Cuban Hispanics. 8 in 10 Rubio voters are also Trump voters, and should Trump's support collapse in the campaign's final days, Rubio could be caught in the undertow. And, if the Clinton get-out-the-vote operation produces bonus Democrats and friendly Independents beyond what is anticipated here, Murphy may outperform these numbers.

Rubio can take comfort in his 13-point lead among seniors, but the youngest voters back Murphy. The contest may well be decided by Baby Boomers, who today back Rubio by 2 points, 45% to 43%. Murphy leads by 20 points in Southeast Florida, but Rubio leads everywhere else. To upset Rubio, Murphy must gain late ground among independent men, where he trails by 5, and independent women, where he trails by 11.

Contentious Constitutional Amendment #1 on solar energy has a nominal 7-point advantage at this hour, 40% to 33%, but that is unlikely to be sufficient support to get the ballot measure to the 60% threshold it needs to become law. 1 in 4 of the most likely voters today are not yet certain which way they will vote on #1. For Amendment #1 to pass, 3 of every 4 undecided voters would need to vote "Yes" on #1. At present, the youngest voters and the least affluent voters back Amendment #1 by 2:1. Wealthy voters narrowly oppose. Other than that, there is little political correlation. The measure is as likely to be backed by strong Republicans as by strong Democrats as by independents as by moderates. The measure leads by 8 points among Trump voters, by 9 points among Clinton voters, by 8 points among men, by 6 points among women.

Constitutional Amendment #2 , which would legalize medical marijuana, is supported 65% to 25% at this hour, which should be enough to reach the 60% threshold. More than 7 in 10 voters under the age of 65 support the amendment, which is backed by 8 of 10 Democrats and by 9 of 10 liberals.

Statewide Favorability Ratings:

* Democratic President Barack Obama is viewed extremely favorably by 32% of FL voters, extremely unfavorably by 36%.
* Republican Governor Rick Scott is viewed extremely favorably by 13% of FL voters, extremely unfavorably by 25%.
* Trump is viewed extremely favorably by 23% of FL voters, extremely unfavorably by 46%.
* Clinton is viewed extremely favorably by 21% of FL voters, extremely unfavorably by 45%.
* Rubio is viewed extremely favorably by 12% of FL voters, extremely unfavorably by 22%.
* Murphy is viewed extremely favorably by 11% of FL voters, extremely unfavorably by 18%.

Context and Methodology :SurveyUSA interviewed 1,400 state of Florida adults 10/20/16 through 10/24/16. Of the adults, 1,314 were registered to vote. Of the registered, 1,251 were determined by SurveyUSA to be likely to vote in the 11/08/16 election. Just 1% of voters interviewed for this survey say they "almost always" vote in Presidential elections, but will not vote in 2016 because they do not like any of the candidates on the ballot. 5% of voters say they "almost never" vote in Presidential elections but will vote in 2016 because they were drawn to one of this year's candidates. Importantly: these "new" voters are spread across the political spectrum; they are not disproportionately Trump supporters. All of the interviews for this survey were conducted after the 3rd Presidential debate and at a time when Trump described himself as "unshackled." This research was conducted using blended sample, mixed mode. Respondents reachable on their home telephones (65% of likely voters) were interviewed on their home telephones in the recorded voice of a professional announcer. Respondents not reachable on a home telephone (35% of likely voters) were shown a questionnaire on the display of their smartphone, tablet or other electronic device. No state has a higher profile and no state is more fiercely contested than Florida in a Presidential election. Obama carried the state by less than 1 percentage point in 2012 and by 3 percentage points in 2008. Republican George W Bush carried the state by 5 points in 2004 and by a handful of votes in 2000. More than 1 million early ballots have already been returned out of an expected 8.5 million ballots to be counted on Election Day.

10 Also on the ballot in November is Amendment 1, which would make current Florida solar energy law part of the state constitution. It establishes that consumers may use solar equipment to generate electricity for their own use. It does not require power companies to buy back excess power produced by consumer solar systems. It restricts any costs for subsidies for the production of solar power from being imposed on non-solar energy producers. Certain to vote yes?
Certain to vote no?
Or not certain?

10 Also on the ballot in November is Amendment 1, which would make current Florida solar energy law part of the state constitution. It establishes that consumers may use solar equipment to generate electricity for their own use. It does not require power companies to buy back excess power produced by consumer solar systems. It restricts any costs for subsidies for the production of solar power from being imposed on non-solar energy producers. Certain to vote yes?
